Bonspiel Is Now Thing Of Past

And now it is all over! Not until another year rolls around will the cry "Bonspiel" be heard in the big local rink in the company of the fine bunch of curlers representing clubs from Tonico to L'Esperance who from last Wednesday till Saturday made the rink ring with their instructions to those playing under them.

And, whilst it was a merry week it has been declared by those who know that it was truly the finest and happiest spiel Wainwright has ever enjoyed. No less than twenty rinks were on deck to grab off the valuable prizes and only one half of these were closed as books.

The officials of the local curling club and especially, Wally Prosser (pres.) and Bob Dunmore (sec-treas.) are highly satisfied with the big wind-up, and the way in which ice-makers Bert and Jack Laird worked to keep things in shape was a credit to their end of the affair. Messrs N. S. Kenny and G. C. Siddall made the draws.

On Thursday evening the locals put on a dandy "reception" for the visitors, this function being pulled off in the C.N.R. clubrooms. Music and other attractions filled in a very pleasant evening for all and a dandy lunch was heartily enjoyed before the party broke up.

With regard to the distribution of the cups and prizes, the former all have new homes now, although some of the local boys managed to get into the jewelry.

ANNUAL REPORT SUN LIFE SHOWS GREATEST INCREASE

The extraordinary expansion of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada during the past few years has caused its annual report to be awaited with unusual interest, not only by the policyholders of the Company, but by a large section of the general public.

It is a sentimental interest attached to this expectation this year. The President, Mr. T. M. Macdonald, in his report, celebrating his fiftieth year in continuous service, and it was known that the world-wide organization of the Sun Life Company had determined to specially honor its jubilee with an outstanding tribute in the form of increased business.

Having in view the fact that the Company's business has doubled on an average every five or six years since it was organized, it was hardly surprising that the annual report should be rather difficult to outdo previous records. But the annual report, which appears in this issue, not only surpassed the expectations of the most sanguine, but the total amount of assurances in force with the Company now approaches the billion and a half figure, $1,487,000,000, an increase for the year of over $231,500,000. The total net income for the year exceeded $100,000,000—five times what it was ten years ago and more than $23,000,000 in excess of the income for the previous year.

The outstanding position of the Sun Life Company in the assurance world is not confined to Canada. Such statistics as are available for 1927 indicate that the aggregate new business of all the companies operating in North America last year barely exceeds the total new business of the previous year. The increase in the new business of the Sun Life of Canada on the other hand, was twenty-three per cent. Assurances in force on the books of the Company have doubled in four years—new business has trebled in that period.

This wonderful expansion has been paralleled by a great increase in the already powerful strength and resources of the Company. The assets have been increased by over $56,000,000 and now reach the impressive total of over $400,000,000. The Company's assets assurances in force only eight years ago.

The wisdom of the Company's investment policy is reflected in the fact that it has no arrears in interest or dividend on either its bonds or preferred stocks while the dividends accruing in its common stocks are greatly in excess of those payable on those stocks at the time of their purchase. The care and foresight exercised in this branch of the business is indicated by an appraisal of company securities, the market value of which has increased by over $19,000,000 during this year.

ENDEAVORING

TO FIX DATE

OF EASTER

Efforts are being made to fix the date of Easter as the first Sunday after the second Saturday in April.

A bill which would do this passed its second reading in the house of commons at London.

Sir William Joynton-Hicks, home secretary said if the bill was adopted by parliament he would ask Sir A. Chamberlain to summon a conference of interested European nations.

At the same time he himself would consult with the Archbishop of Canterbury regarding the most desirable method of approaching other religious communities beside the Church of England with a view to securing general secular and religious unanimity concerning the fixed date of Easter.

YOUNG ENGLISH LAD

ACCIDENTLY SHOT

WHILE CLEANING GUN

While cleaning out his .22 rifle last week William Alfred Carr, who was employed on the farm of Mr Isaac Stouffer at Greenshields, and who had come to Canada last year under the Homestead plan to learn farming was accidentally shot when the weapon was discharged and the missile entered the lad's face just above the eye at the right temple.

A most thorough investigation was made by Sgt. Stewart and Coroner Dr Wallace and it was decided that it was purely an accident. The father of the deceased who is in London, Eng. was immediately informed of the circumstances as was also the provincial school of agriculture at Vermilion from which institution the lad came to this district.

McLeod's parlors took charge of the arrangements and the funeral was held on Thursday after a very impressive service in St. Thomas' church at which the Rev. Mr. Stickings, of the Edmonton officiated. A brother of the deceased who is employed at Spirit River was the only relative to be present, although a large number of sympathetic friends, and two representatives of the government from the school at Vermilion were in attendance.

Interment was made at the Wainwright cemetery and many beautiful floral tributes were laid on the coffin including those from "Mother, Father and family," Mr. J. Lamont, of Berwyn and Mr. Heckbert, of Vermilion, the Church of England Boys' hostel at Edmonton and others.

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE SETS NEW RECORD

Edmonton—Calgary broke all records Thursday in getting its charter amendment through the municipal law committee of the legislature less than 10 minutes being required to give them approval. This was partly due to withdrawal of the amendments giving the city the right to tax the gas company five per cent on its annual gross revenue.

These were withdrawn in pursuance of the agreement reached between the city and the company whereby the gas company's holdovers will be assessed in 1928 on a basis of $900,000 instead of the previous assessment of $500,000.

Fourth, silver flasks, donated by Nor-West Brewery—Dunmore, Wainwright.

CALGARY BREWING CUP

First, silver cassettes, donated by Calgary Brewing Co.—G. Reynolds, Chauvin.

Second, meerschaum pipes donated by Boon's Ltd.—Dunmore, Wainwright.

CORINNE PLAYS TRAGEDY AGAIN IN "THREE HOURS"

Having attained stardom in pictures through her outstanding ability in the portrayal of highly emotional roles and proving recently her unusual versatility of interpreting her dramatic offerings with comedy of the tempo of "Classified" and "Syncopated Sue" Corinne Griffith will again be seen in tense drama in "Three Hours" which Maugham, dramatist of the theatre has booked for Thursday Friday and Saturday.

In a part which evokes from the famous star her utmost talent in character portrayal Miss Griffith's role is without doubt her most outstanding dramatic success. Enacting the role of a wife who is the victim of the insane jealousy of an ill-used husband, Miss Griffith will be seen in a part which in some respects combines the tragic phases of two of her greatest films "Declasse" and "Black Oxen". A notable cast supports Miss Griffith in the new picture.

CHURCH NOTICE

A congregational meeting of members and adherents of the Wainwright United Church will be held on Sunday next March 4th, at the close of the evening service when matters of importance will be brought before the gathering.

It is greatly desired that a large congregation be in attendance.

CARD OF THANKS

The Ladies of the St. Thomas' W.A. wish to thank all donors for their kind assistance in making their recent home cooking sale such a decided success.

THE BRITISH NAVY

(By Nellie L. Pickard)

See, the ships, they fly aloft,

The British flag on high;

Those British ships they guard the seas

Where death and danger lie,

In wartime they protect us;

In peace they do the same;

Oh, count the many heroes, who Have died for Britain's name!

There are the great big dreadnoughts

Who comb the azure main;

And, too, there are the steamships

Who face the stormy rain;

And then there are the little boats

Who dive beneath the wave

And they are called the submarines

They, too, are strong and brave

And, last, there are the sailors

Who man the British fleet

They face the stormy seas unknown

And make their homes the deep

'Tis to those daring sailors

Doth Britain owe her name;

For many have gone in time of war

And ne'er returned again!

And so, my friends and readers,

Who may this story read,

Just think of those brave heroes

And greater still their deeds.

Now let us all remember,

Throughout the future years

To stand or fall for Britain's rights

As those who know no fears.

W.M.S. TO HOLD MEETING MONDAY NEXT

The Presbyterial meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Wainwright Presbytery will be held in the United Church here on Monday March 5th. There will be meetings in the afternoon at 2:30 and in the evening at 8 o'clock. The public is especially invited to the evening meeting which will be addressed by a returned missionary and a representative of the provincial organization. Mrs. G. L. Hudson will sing, and a psalm will be given by the children. All are invited to come and bring your friends.

How does your label read?

MR. ARTHUR B. WOOD

Vice-President and Actuary

Sun Life of Canada

LOCAL NOTES

Mr. Herman Nelson who is here from Minneapolis with his son, is visiting Ed. Nordstrom. While here the visitors are looking over some farm land propositions with a view to a new location.

We learn that Mr. Jack Uren, of the Park Hotel has had to journey to Rochester, Minn., to seek specialist medical attention there.

MUNICIPAL DISTRICT

GRIZZLY BEAR, 452

INTERESTING MEET.

The ratepayers of Grizzly Bear No. 452 held their annual general meeting in Ganton school on February 18th for the purpose of consideration of their annual balance sheet and for discussion of the affairs of the district.

Reeve Shane was called on to act as chairman of the meeting; who after congratulating the ratepayers on the improved tax collections, called on the secretary to read the minutes of the 1927 general meeting. These were on motion of S. H. Panser.

The financial statement for 1927 was submitted—the various accounts being gone over in detail—and after satisfactory action had been expressed and explanations made to certain items, the statement on motion of C. W. Lewis and J. McNair was adopted.

On behalf of B.C. Symes, unavoidably absent the secretary submitted the report of Vernon Hospital Board for 1927. Notice being made that Grizzly Bear M.D. had paid in full the hospital requisition of 1927. Discussion ensued regarding relative payments and taxes as between the urban and rural units contributing to the hospital. The Council being asked to procure further information On motion of Messrs Doyle and Islay the report was adopted. Regret was expressed that there was no report from either Islay or Wainwright Hospitals.

On initiative of E. Monger, discussion took place as to spread of noxious weeds throughout the municipality and on motion of A. Trewhick it was agreed after a show of hands by a small majority that the Council be empowered to employ a competent weed inspector for the season of 1928.

Matter of continuing supply of gopher poison to each resident farmer was raised and after discussion, meeting agreed that Council should continue supply for coming season.

Nominations for councilors for divisions 1, 3, and 5 were received at three o'clock. The retiring councilors Messrs S. E. Panser for Div. 1 A. E. Green for Div. 3 and C. Freidland for Div. 5 being returned by acclamation.

A vote of thanks to the Chairman for presiding closed the meeting.

Mr and Mrs Percy Smale, of Heath who have been holidaying at the coast for some time with their family, returned home on Tuesday's train.

PRINCE OF WALES'S GIFT OF PEONY PLANTS IS ACKNOWLEDGED

So numerous were the letters received acknowledging the peony plants which the Prince of Wales had distributed throughout Canada last fall as a memento of his visit that His Royal Highness has requested that His formal acknowledgement to the Bank of Montreal through whom the letters were forwarded to him be taken as constituting a general reply.

It will be remembered that His Royal Highness asked the Bank to undertake for him the distribution of Canadian-grown peony plants to His Excellency the Governor General, the Prime Minister and members of his cabinet, the Lieutenant-Governors and Premiers of the Provinces also, to all cities, towns and incorporated villages throughout Canada. The distribution was made through the branches of the Bank with the co-operation and assistance of His Majesty's Mails, and the hundreds of letters received from mayors and other public officials showed how greatly the royal gift was appreciated. These letters, conveying the thanks of the various communities and expressing loyalty and devotion were bound in a handsome portfolio and transmitted by the Bank of Montreal to Vice-Admiral Sir Lionel Hall, Comptroller of the Prince of Wales's Household. The following letter from Sir Vincent Meredith, Bart., to the Comptroller, dated March 1st, 1928, is a fine example of the appreciation of the gift of peony plants that His Royal Highness so graciously sent to the towns and villages through the medium of the branches of the Bank of Montreal throughout Canada as a memento of his visit to the Dominion during its Diamond Jubilee Year.

Through every community and co-operation of the Honourable the Minister of Finance and the Honourable the Postmaster General, the services of His Majesty's Mail were promptly placed at our disposal and this greatly facilitated the distribution.

With every community of loyalty and devotion to His Royal Highness, I have the honour to be, Sir, Your obedient servant.

(Signed) VINCENT MEREDITH,

Chairman of the Board

Mr. Rolfe Arthur, of Amburnham, was badly injured last week by a horse falling on him. He is now in the hospital at Vermilion with a broken leg.

PROV. GOVERNMENT

ARRANGE COURSES

FOR WOMEN'S INST.

In response to a request from the Women's Institutes of Alberta that a free training course for Emergency Home Helpers be given by the Department of Health and Agriculture, the Minister of these Departments has signified his willingness to put on such a course if a sufficient number of suitable women desirous of taking the course can be secured. It is now necessary that a sufficient number of applications are sent in.

(Following are the requirements:

1 Applications would be received from any woman of mature age, of sound health and of good standing in the community.

2 Each candidate will be required to sign a statement to the effect that she will put her training to practical service for one year.

3 The application along with the applicant's signed statement are to be sent to the Provincial Secretary Mrs. D. R. McIvor, Stettler or to the local W.I.

When a sufficient number are received they will be forwarded to the Department.

Send in the applications early for if the course is put on it will start approximately April 1st and will cover a period of six weeks or perhaps eight.

Tuition will be given free of charge and will include: Housework, Administration, first aid, laundry, care of poultry, first aid, and elementary home nursing and dairying.

(The charge for board will be approximately $30 per month.

If a sufficient number of applicants can be secured for the course to be put on there will be no departmental death rate.

FARMERS DECEIVED WITH GERMINATION PROVED BY TESTS

That the forthcoming good seed campaign to be staged throughout Alberta and the other northwestern efforts ever made from an agrarian point of view was the opinion expressed by H. R. Swanson, chemist for the Robin Hood Mills, Limited.

In the course of an interview Mr Swanson cited several instances that had come under his notice where farmers had been deceived so far as germination was concerned. Because apparently high germination had resulted from tests they had made themselves poor quality seed had been sown. In a case only the other day a farmer who had been shown up well in that respect but who Mr. Swanson sent him a sample of good wheat to be tested the farmer at once saw the difference.

In laboratory tests good seed would sprout in 20 hours' time, said Mr. Swanson while lower grades took a couple of days before they started to sprout.

"Of course in the final analysis the growing of a quality seed rests entirely with the individual farmers," said Mr. Swanson.

"The teacher asked they 'how much was 2 per cent. on $500?' they answered 'At 2 p.c. I'm not interested!' But you might be interested in building a new implement shed if you knew that it will prolong the life of your farm machinery 22 per cent. See plans at the Atlas Lumber office, or phone 57."

Why Girls Go Back Home

BY CATHERINE BRODY

Copyright 1926 by Warner Bros. Pictures Inc.

"Why Girls Go Back Home" with Patsy Ruth Miller is a Warner production from this novel

"Oh you—I all right then I'll hand him a line for you then!"
"Don't you dare!" cried Marie fiercely starting up."Say" drawled Sally and this time the temper that goes with red, hair menaced from her eyes "what do you mean dare? I'm through. I butt out Play your own game!"Marie kept on crying. With hauteur Sally began to dress to go out.Just at this time three blocks away and turn to the left four men in conference stamped right and left across the narrow space of an office. It was the private office of Mr. Barkeley Sheridan a producer just coming into the bright light from a tangled career in the background by reason of a lucky buy of "His Own".The four men figuratively tore their hair.
From time to time the switch board outside buzzed and from time to time the telephone girl repeated monoton-ously:"No he's not in. He hasn't come in yet I don't know when he will be in."
"Blank, blank, blank, blank, yelled Mr. Barkeley Sheridan, his usually easy checks, moist with the hue of anger. He was talking to the press agent a lanky and troubled youth who when things were wrong answered to the names of "Blair"."Yes I know" said the press agent wearily for the seventy-seventh time.
"He'll be here and a row of 'em mattered Mr. Dugan while his feet kept time to the rhythm of "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp the Boys Are Marching".Mr. Clifford Dudley said nothing. He wore the expression of a broken man and only fear of Mr. Sheridan's sarcasms kept him from burying his face in his hands."Only two nights after the show open, Great Blank, blank, blank, blank ed Mr. Sheridan and our Great Lover is engaged to be married! After all the money we spent getting him to the public as the man no woman could ever get, Yuh! Diddle, daddle, how the papers kidded us about that? Yuh!They'll kid the show out of town and you turning to his press agent "what the hell do I pay you a hundred dollars a week for? For your wise cracks for your face?""Well," began the press agent feelingClifford interposed "Can't you keep lies about me from getting into the papers? What're you good for?""You shut your mouth!" snapped Mr.
Sheridan. "You made enough trouble What about that non-engagement or marriage clause in your contract, Yuh!
I've a blankety-blank mind to close the show and let you kick up your heels for a season. Serve you right Yuh!"Here Mr. Dugan took up the cudgels for his client."Well it is a lie he argued. "Why don't we call the reporters in and give her the razz Say she's trying to frame him See?""Yuh!" snarled Mr. Sheridan, "and what about her? Seventeen, did you say, country girl, and cute looking?
Watch the papers eat it up. Great Lover jills beautiful country buncer!
Yuh! Maybe you'd like that Say try to get the breaks against a woman in this country, Yuh, Blank!""That began the press agent gives me and idea."

He was jumped on in chorus.

"Yuh! It's about time."

"What fool idea now?"

But for the first time that morning he found courage to smooth down his hair and perk up his chin."Let's call Sam in!" There was a note of new firmness and courage in his tone and the others pricked up their ears. Mr. Sheridan himself opened the door and bawled "Sam!"One of those anomalous hangers on at theatrical offices who are sporadically press agents and playwrights and stage managers but usually just play the role of friend to the producer made his entrance. And it was an entrance for he was a big fat man in tweeds with broad, padded shoulders. He had a presence and was never seen without his cane."Supposing you fix this girl began the press agent anew.""If you mean money" said Mr. Sheridan talk to Dugan and Dudley."Now that's a real idea" said Mr.
Dugan reproachfully and Clifford's eyes fixed on the press agent with passionate hatred."I don't mean money. Listen here's my little scheme. Sam you're in on this."The five men drew together and as they listened to the press agent's absurd syllables relaxation was visible in their taut figures. Mr. Sheridan even had a sly little smile on his face.
Mr. Dugan went further in his admiration. He slapped the press agent on the back heartily."Attahoy You're all right You're here!""Yeh!" commented Mr. Sheridan "but I'll bet that makes Roy Roger."show I heard it was going to the bow wows fast.""Well that can't hurt us argued Mr.
Dugan reasonably "We'll be in on the publicity too!"Clifford said nothing. He only sighed and staggered to a chair, smoothing out the lines that puckered his forehead. No one looked at him with any sympathy."It's a dirty trick added Mr. Sheridan still further "but okay, no help. Call her up now Dudley and let's have it over with. And it might be a good idea for someone to call up the papers and say something for Dudley about the engagement you know stall them Bah!"Thus Marie lying on the bed with her head in the pillows as Sally had disgustedly left her heard the telephone ringing for the millionth time that morning and ignored it. At every ringing however her heart beat faster and she thought, "If that's Clifford he did not dare answer. But there was something urgent in the call of this telephone. After a few tries all the other calls had ceased but this one kept on and on and on and seemed to have every intention of keeping on until the Day of Judgement."Marie could stand it no longer.
There was something in the jangle of the phone anyway, that is almost irresistible and there is a limit to human endurance of its sickening persistence.She answered feebly but at the first sound of the voice she sat up and hugged the telephone to her bosom.

"Oh Clifford!"

"It's me dear" said the voice of Chilford kindly."Oh you aren't mad then? trembled Marie.""Well it could have come at a better time. Makes it rather awkward for me. But there—don't worry—""Oh Clifford—darling! The girls were so horrid. You do forgive me don't you?"

"Yes, Yes."

"You're sure?"

"Sure, Er—er—is Sally in?"

"No—I think she's mad at me. She said nasty things about you.""She did? Did she? Well if she should come in tell her to get out will you?
I want to see you alone Got something nice for you. How'd you like a new job?""Oh I'd love it. I can't bear those girls any more!""Yes? Listen dear. A theatrical man ager a friend of mine is looking for somebody for a fat part in a new show.
I told him about you. Since you're my fiancee of course, you understand?
Well this man's at the office now and wants to see you. We both want to see you. Better put on your best cloths. But make it snappy because we'll both be around in fifteen minutes.""All right. All right I'll rush darling.""Goodbye—darling! Remember, fifteen minutes!"When Clifford's voice at its softest had ceased Marie snuggled her head into the pillows for a minute. Waves of sweetest relief and happiness curdled through her and triumph too. What would Sally say? It was an act of God that Sally was mad at her, for she could now stop away as long as possible. She jumped up and skipped into her pure girl. She had just time to make up the couch in the living room on which she slept. But no time for anything else. She must rush. For Clifford would be coming in fifteen minutes. Clifford was coming in fifteen minutes. It made a song in her throat.When Clifford's voice at its softest had ceased Mr. Sheridan gagged.

"Good! What a sap she must be!"

"Sam we better start, suggested the press agent as Sam smoothly gloved his hands and caned stepped from the outer room where he too, had been elephoning. "Is Florrie game?"

"Yup!" announced Sam.

Clifford and Sam and the press agent were soon on their way in a taxi stopping only to pick up Sam's blonde and actual wife.

CHAPTER VI

The three men and the woman did not stop to ring the downstairs bell of the four story house where Sally and Marie lived. With every aspect of conspirators, they toiled up two heavy flights of stairs. At the head of the next flight was Marie's door. Sam straightened his shoulders and sprang his lie. His wife suppressed a struggle between anger and actual serious whispered."Now we'll stop here for a minute and give you time to do your stuff. If Sally Sheridan's there say you made a mistake and beat it. We'll have to try some other way. If the girl's home made it snappy when you're in we'll walk up and stand outside the door.
When you're ready cough hard or drop something. Make a noise. And make it snappy do you hear?"Sam nodded. He took the next flight of stairs on high cleared his throat and tapped gently on the door.

Marie with her hair smoothed and complexion nearly on was standing before the mirror, hesitating between the choice of two dresses which were equally worst. She sighed a little as she looked at them. On such a day to have to wear an old dress!"Oh dear!" she thought nervously at the sound of the knock, "and there's Sally. However will I get her out?"With not too much alacrity therefore and with her kimono hanging loosely about her she opened the door.

Sam took in the scattered living room at one glance over her head. Then he smiled reassuringly. Miss Downey?
Bethinking herself of the loose kimono Marie gathered it about her and nodded. A reporter was her horrified first thought soon dispelled however."Mr. Dudley sent me over, explained Sam. "I'm his friend that he spoke to you about."

"Oh isn't Mr. Dudley coming?"

Sam had to smile at the acute collapse of all her hopes audible in her voice."Yes," he went on confidently and saw her smile again. "But he got stuck with a telephone call—business you know and since I'm in a hurry he told me to go along first and wait for him if possible. I suppose you do not mind if I come in?""Of course not, do come in," said Marie confusedly.

"May I sit down?" remarked Sam.

"Oh yes of course," cried Marie in further confusion.Sam flung his hat and cane on another chair and settled himself blandly.
He began:"I suppose I might as well start to tell you what I have in mind. With a surprised and rather reproachful look which caused Marie to come forward little feeling that she had been remis-s as a hostess. She still held herself however with an uncertain air poised or flight which did not escape Sam.He drew out his cigarette case and held it out to her. She shook her head startled. She had not yet become accustomed to the free and easy smoking of women even of Sally. Sam put a cigarette in his mouth and looked about him for a match."Oh I think there are some on the table. She crossed to get the matches and as she crossed Marie forgot her, but her movement brought them as he had planned closer together.Just as he was about to put the match to his cigarette Marie was horrified by a sudden crumpling process of his body. The lit match fell to the carpet and the man clutching his

DIRT
WITHOUT RUBBINGFROM WEDDING TO
'DOMESTIC TROUBLES'Everyone at Warner Bros. studio in Hollywood is laughing uppermost. The mere mention of Louise Fazenda's name is sufficient to create a gale of merriment. And no one is laughing more heartily than the attractive Louise.The causes leading up to the merriment happened the morning of the comedian's marriage to Hal Wallis. Hurrying from the ceremony after receiving the congratulations of their friends, the newweds reached the studio, the bride to begin work on her new picture, and the groom to resume his duties in the executive department.Upon entering the studio the players stop to see just where they have been assigned. As the couple looked up to see the announcement that concerned them most their eyeslighted on a particular card. It read: "Miss Fazenda. 7-11
— Domestic Troubles."This meant that on stage 7 at 11:00 o'clock Miss Fazenda would go to work on "Domestic Troubles," the title given to her new picture.In an instant Miss Fazenda began to laugh. The idea of becoming her married life with "Domestic Troubles" was too much for her.
The groom had to join her and pretty soon the entire studio caught the contagion. Clyde Cook who plays opposite Miss Fazenda in the picture, disappeared and was found having his laugh out all by himself in his dressing room.Of course Director Ray Enright never began his work that morning on time, but when he did order the cameras to click it was with excitement on a spot that augurs well for the success of the picture.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

—Just what a ten dollar bill which a farmer spends in his home town may accomplish? Let us follow it a round. Probably the dry goods merchant gets it first. He passes it on to the hardware merchant in payment of an account. The hardware merchant pays it in wages to one of his employees. This employee pays it to his landlady who pays a grocery bill with it. The grocer can then pay his butcher. The butcher passes this on to his produce merchant and this produce merchant, buying largely from the farmer, passes this ten dollars back to the farmer from whom it originally came. Thus it has in its round trip, among the home town people, served many useful purposes and yet it is still in the community to again serve.

If Sent Away To Distant Merchant

—That ten dollar bill is gone for good. It may serve to build up the large city elsewhere. But so far as the home community is concerned its usefulness is at an end, and the community has been drained of just that much working capital.

When in Need of Printing

—Remember that orders left with your home town printer will serve to pay wages of workmen who in turn spend this money with local business houses, thus serving to maintain that round of business which is necessary in order that rural towns throughout Canada may flourish and prosper.

THE COMING MONTH

All the evidence considered, it is agreed that the month of March is the least desirable of the year, recalling the month of the "March Hare," responsible for the undependable among the 12 major divisions of the calendar year. It is, born of both winter and spring by virtue of the calendar and weather tradition. It is nature's sample case. There are weather reasons for the existence of the "March Hare" and the prophetic association of March with the lion and the lamb.

Throughout the mayor portion of the United States this month of March is welcomed because it marks the death of winter and the birth of spring. Among the time honored days of the year none is quite so well met and joyfully received as March 21 the first day of spring. Sometimes the first day of spring does not live up to its calendar designation and harsh winds or deadening snows strive for supremacy over the urge of Spring but to no avail.

In closing March advocates in favor of April with her moving day, flowers and garden making.

THE USELESS "GOOD CITIZEN"

There is a certain type of man in every community who poses as a good citizen. He breaks no laws, lives morally, pays his honest debts and is never tangled up with the law in any manner. But he lives, in himself, by himself. He is not interested in the welfare of his community. When called on for volunteers to put across a community movement and give a boost he never answers. When calamity has befallen people in certain localities and charity flies to their rescue, he is never one of their number. When money is needed for a public enterprise, his name is never on the list. When he sees some neighbor stuck in the mud he detours to avoid him.

In fact if he stood on the shore and saw the ship of state sinking he would never offer to throw out a line. And if all mankind was fashioned from this same kind of chap, what would happen? There would be no churches, no hospitals for the sick, no institutions for the unfortunate, no progress. If you are about to become a useless "good citizen" read this editorial again.

KOOTNEY PARK MAPPED

A map sheet of one of the latest additions to Canada's national parks, Kootenay Park in southeastern British Columbia, has just been issued by the Topographical Survey Department of the Interior. This park has an especial appeal to the motor tourist on account of the perfection of the automobile highway which traverses it. Although the Banff-Windermere Highway passes through some of the most rugged country on the continent, there is nothing to prevent the driver to the average car from going over the entire road "on high" without once changing gears. This is possible even although the road has a great many curves and grades—it has extreme variation in altitude of about 2000 feet from Vernon summit to Columbia valley—for the road has been engineered built throughout with easy grades and super-elevated curves and the surface has been kept up to a high standard of excellence.

A number of mountains in this Park, famous for their scenic beauty, have been mapped. These, with the marvelous lakes, rivers, waterfalls and canyons which present that infinite variety of form and colour found only in high mountain scenery, afford plenty of attraction for climbers and nature lovers.

The Park is full of game and besides the more ordinary kinds of mountain fauna, possesses large numbers of moose. From the highway these beautiful animals may often be seen on the wide flats of Vernon and Kootenay rivers.

Copies of this map sheet may be had for the nominal fee of fifteen cents upon application to the Topographical Survey, Department of the Interior, Ottawa or by writing to the Director of Canadian National Parks, of the same department.

Health Service

of the CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT TUBERCULOSIS

Discovered early and properly treated, Tuberculosis is one of the most curable diseases. Many deaths from Tuberculosis occur each year.

Putting these two statements together, it is evident that either the cases are not being discovered early or they are not being properly treated. There are no secrets in the medical professions and so the physicians in one place have the same knowledge as physicians elsewhere, but the physician cannot help the person who does not come to him.

Those who follow our advice and have a complete physical examination once a year, give their family physician an opportunity to discover Tuberculosis, Cancer or other diseases at their earliest and most curable stage. Those who have not followed this advice should know something about the earliest signs of Tuberculosis so that they may recognize them and secure proper advice right away.

Not everyone with the following symptoms has Tuberculosis, but the presence of one or more of them is sufficient to arouse suspicion and to send the person to his family physician to find out the cause. Delay means the opportunity for cure and, at the same time, endangers the lives of others.

Any cough which persists for a month or more is suspicious. Any cough accompanied by a slight spitting of blood, if it recurs, is not to be disregarded.

First of New Fleet at Saint John

Saint John Harbour

Completing her maiden trip across the Atlantic, the "Beaverburn" first fast cargo liner for the Canadian Pacific Railway fleet, docked at Saint John, N.B., to receive the official welcome of several officials of that company, among whom were, W. R. MacInnes, vice-president in charge of traffic, and W. A. Wainwright, assistant to the chairman, Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited, also the harbour officials of that port. A thorough inspection was made of the vessel and appreciation of her qualities was expressed.

S.S. Beaverburn

These cargo ships will provide a weekly departure from Canada every Friday, arriving in London nine and a half days later. Montreal is to be their Canadian port during the summer and Saint John in the winter. The liners are considered the finest and highest class of cargo ships afloat today. Another steamer of the passenger style, the Duchess of Bedford will be launched at the Clydebank shipyards January 24. Altogether there are to be five Duchess liners attached to the Canadian Pacific Steamships. To date the Duchess of Atholl has been launched, the Duchess of Bedford will be launched shortly, while in 1929 the third and fourth to be delivered will be Duchess of Richmond and Duchess of Cornwall, with one more ship to come.

By means of hand levers attached to the pedals of his automobile, a cripple deprived of the use of his legs, is able to drive with little difficulty. In applying for an operator's license, he demonstrated to traffic officials the efficiency of his equipment.

Present Bobbed-Hair Fad Mang Centuries Old

Bobbed hair has joined the list of things that are not new, as a result of research by a French doctor who has listed three previous epidemics of feminine bobbing since the French revolution. The first followed immediately after the overthrow of the king, when women cut their locks in memory of Marie Antoinette, and others, who were shown before being led to the guillotine. The fad revived in 1836 when the princess of Orleans exhibited her painting of Joan of Arc, showing the famous saint, as she is always pictured, with a bob. It was known as the Joan of Arc style. Short hair, resurrected again in 1871, was then called the Ninon style, in honor of the famous seventeenth century beauty.

Monkeys Captured with Rum
An easy way to capture monkeys has been discovered by African business. They place a bottle of native liquor under a tree where the monkeys play. The animals, attracted by the odor, drink and become intoxicated, then fall asleep. They awake in cages. Twenty-nine taken in this way were recently brought to this country by George M. Hestany of the Bronx zoo. He declared that they dance, play and sometimes fight when under the influence of the drink.

Color of Diamonds Altered by Exposure to Radium

Yellow diamonds, comparatively cheap and plentiful, can be changed into valuable blue-white stones through exposure to radium, a New York investigator has discovered, according to reports. His tests have been conducted for four years and in that time, none of the altered gems has reverted to its original hue, but there is no way of telling definitely whether the change will be permanent. About $8,000 worth of the substance was required to change one diamond in four days. The scientist admits that the process is yet too costly to be commercially practical and is somewhat dangerous to the workers.

Simple Power-Control Switch

A simple power control for trickle chargers and B-eliminators may be obtained by means of a switch mounted on the wall, or at some other convenient place near the set. Power-control devices are now on the market, but for those who prefer to make their own, this simple switching device will give good service. The equipment consists of a three-point switch, of either the snap or push-button type, and the illustration shows the connections clearly. The switch lever and contact points merely illustrate the action of this snap switch and are not a part of the hook-up. If the house has a cellar, it is always desirable to place the batteries, charger and eliminator there. When tapping the 110-volt line, one wire is connected directly to the trickle charger, and to the B-eliminator; the other side of the line goes to the post on the bridged contacts of the control switch. The remaining two posts on the switch are connected, one to the other input wire on the trickle charger, and the second to the wire on the B-eliminator. With a snap-switch the eliminator and charger will alternate on or off with each snap of the switch. If the flush push-button type of switch is used, pressing one button will shut off the charger and connect the eliminator, in which position the set can be operated. Pressing the other button will shut off the eliminator and connect the charger. It will be seen that the filaments of the tubes must be operated independently by the filament switch on the set, or by turning the rheostat to the off position, if the set is not equipped with a switch.

first 20 miles, cedar being hauled for the purpose, and the three streams along the railway must cross are being spanned by a trestle which will be replaced by permanent structures later. Three temporary water tanks are also being installed in advance of the ballasting and track laying.

"Our big battle is, of course, with the muskeg," said the engineer, in discussing the difficulties of railroad-building in the north. "Near the Limestone River we are cutting 200 carloads of poles and these will be placed on top of the grade, herringbone fashion so as to form a foundation for the ties in the soft places. Instead of burning the timber cleared from the right-of-way all this will be saved and used for the same purpose. Ballasting will be kept close to the track all the time. There will be two outfits.

"Two hundred men and 120 teams are working on the steeple roads outside the right-of-way. Besides the men on the Churchill section, 339 men are engaged along other portions of the line and three work trains.

"Four headquarters camps, more than half the total number to be built have been erected and others are under way. The contractors are erecting for the railway eight engineers' camps as well as three of which have been completed. At Mile 84 from the present end of steel they are building an engineers' headquarters camp of four log buildings. This will be the base for working down the Deer and Churchill Rivers for the line ahead.

"The cables I referred to are 10 miles long and are being laid between camps. They will have to travel more than five miles. To make it easier for them in the summer 2000 "chick mats" plank platforms eight feet long, will be put down in the soft places. There is no river transportation here and no timber for building a corduroy road."

The Flin Flon Line
Work on the line to the great northern area of the Flin Flon is going ahead at an amazing rate. Mr. Gzowski said. The track must be in workable condition by December 31 of this year and the contractors, the Dominion Construction Company who will build the line complete, are pushing ahead night and day.

The Flin Flon Railway is being built under Province of Manitoba charter and all the directors of the Railway are officers of the Canadian National Railways, except those who represents the mining interests, the Huron Bay Mining and Smelting Company which has advanced a quarter of a million dollars toward the line. The Manitoba Government will give a subsidy of $100,000 a year for five years against possible deficits in operating.

"The country through which the line will pass is of two characters," Mr.
Gzowski said. "For the first 50 miles it is relatively flat muskeg with small timber and this remainder is rock and blake. In order to accomplish construction in the period of a novel method After clearing the right-of-way for the first 50 miles they are laying the track on the surface of the ground blocking the low spots with timber and ties. By the eleventh of February 27 miles of track had been laid, and the aim is to be at Mile 50 by March 20. It is figured that from then until the spring breakup, when it will have to be abandoned there will be 6 or 7 weeks in which the line can be operated. Over this track before then all be taken out all the material behind the construction camp both ways due to bays and arms of lakes. At Miles 10, 15 and 25 before the breakup will be established three complete steam-shovel outfits with all the necessary supplies and materials so that work can be carried on both ways from these points. The track with ballast. Beyond Mile 50 are being established contractors' headquarters camps with minor camps between from which the graders will attack the various rock outcrops and embankments that are to be made.

"Supplies and material are being taken on over the old winter road to the Flin Flon. This road does not follow the line of railway but in places is as much as 20 miles farther west.
Hauling over the first 40 miles is being done by three Lynn tractors with a fourth stationed at The Pas for marshalling the trains of sleighs. Each train consists of tractor and four or five sleighs and carries a minimum of 40—sometimes 50 tons. The train make the return trip in 48 hours. They run day and night changing crews at a half way station. Each tractor has a snow plow and no weather stops them. One Lynn tractor has the hauling capacity in ten miles per day of 50 teams. Beyond the 60 miles supplies are hauled over three roads, fanning out by team. At present all the hauling is done by team. The majority of the food supplies, as well as considerable timber for trestles. Eleven hundred men are now employed in this great undertaking.

Mr. Gzowski went to the Flin Flon by "smokeless" diesel trail car.
The Pas at 9 a.m. and making improvements on the way, he was back after 180 miles at 1.45 the next morning.

amounted to over $38,500,000. This Company has followed its conservative policy with regard to his under and deducted $5,000,000 from the market value of its securities as a provision against possible future fluctuations. The total amount set aside for this purpose now standing at $10,000,000. The account to provide for unforeseen contingencies has been increased by $1,500,000 and now amounts to $12,500,000. The sum of $1,000,000 has been written off the Company's properties; an additional $500,000 has been set aside in anticipation of the greater longevity of annuitants. The total provision now held now being $2,000,000. As to the $500,000 has been set aside to provide for claims with respect to total disability cases as yet uncompleted. $1,000,000 has been paid or set aside as profits to policyholders during the year, and over $9,000,000 has been continuously allotted to deferred dividends, policies issued prior to 1911 and to five-year distribution policies to provide for profits accrued but not yet payable.

After making these liberal deductions and allocations over $1,000,000 has been added to the undivided surplus, which now stands at more than $45,000,000.

There is good news again for the participating policyholders of the Company in the announcement that the scale of dividends to be paid to the policyholders during the year comencing April 1st next will be again increased—this for the eighth successive year. The interest rate on dividends left with the Company will be maintained at 5 1/2 per cent per annum during the new dividend year, into which the chicken shipped There were paid to policyholders in and beneficiaries in respect to death claims, matured endowments, etc., for January the year over $420,000,000.
The Company has paid out since its organization, under this head, over $300,000,000.

It is indicative of the efficiency and scale of the world-wide organization of the Sun Life that the increases in its income are from every department of its business and from every territorial division, namely, Canada; United States; South America and taken care of by consumers. No stockholders of the Sun Life, Canada, have moved towards storage yet.

THE EXAMINER'S WEEKLY REVIEW OF PROV. MARKETS

CATTLE

BEEF—Receipts were lighter this week at Edmonton than last, but all classes of offerings found a good demand. Choice heavy steers brought from $106 to 102; choice light $106 to 102; good $95 to 100; medium $86 to 90; common $75 to 80. Choice heifers brought from $85 to 89 with good kinds at $90 to 92. Choice cows made from $76 to 72; good $75 to 77; medium $57 to 62; common $45 to 52; canners $39 to 44. Choice bulls went over the scales at $4.50 to 4.75; medium $4 to 4.25 and canners from $3 up. Choice light calves sold at $10 to 13 with common kinds bringing from $5 to 8. FEEDERS STOCKERS—There were very few kinds in these classes on the market but what were met an active demand.

Feeder steers brought from $6 to 8.50; stock steers $5.50 to 7.50; stock heifers $5 to 6; stock cows $4 to 5.50.

Eggs

Edmonton market quotation for thick smooths is $8.25 to 8.35 with select $8.75 to 8.85.

SHEEP

Receipts are very light at both Cal-points; prices held at unchanged levels during week. DAIRY BUTTER Deliveries in top grades are light, but these is considerable of the lower grades being handled which is being bought by bakers. Prices unchanged on last week. MILK—Values are holding at unchanged levels with remarking April 1st next will be again increased—this for the eighth suc-

KEEN INTEREST DISPLAYED IN COAL RATE PROBE
Energetic efforts have been made by the Drumheller locals of the United Mine Workers of America to support the securing of an equitable freight rate on Alberta coal to Ontario it was stated by Robert Livett, president of District 18 of the U.M.W.A. in the course of an interview.
Miners as well as operators he said were awaiting with the keenest interest a definite decision of the matter now before the federal house.
With a rate in the neighborhood of $6.75 a ton Alberta could successfully compete with the American anthracite coal that was being shipped into the eastern provinces as the Alberta product could be sold in the neighborhood of $13 a ton.

Mr. Livett stated that considerable headway was being made in the way of the development of the U.F.W.A., in the various mining camps. Arrangements had been completed for the presentation to operators of the new wage contract which would take place during the early days of March.

It is good business to protect your Life, Health, and Property with Insurance. See Joe Welch about this.

THE PIGSKIN BANK

A Farmer stood by his barnyard gate, Watching some pigs while they drank and ate.
He figured how those pigs would grow And their market prices in six months or so.

If his pigs do well and meet no harm,
They will lift the mortgage from the farm.
As the pigs grew fat, the grain bin shrank,
For he was pouring his wealth in the Pig Skin Bank.

But a Pig Skin Bank is none too strong,
As time has proved as it rolls along.
It will store up lots of wealth all right,
And then go blooey overnight.

For Lightning struck his pigs one day,
It burned his pigs and it burned his hay.
It turned his barn, his horses and teams,
And everything else round the place it seems.

Had he but thought to come around And bought Insurance safe and sound, To Joe Welch, he would have given thanks, For protection on His Pig Skin Banks.

Lu Fong approached Dolores with a deadly threatening look in his eyes. But she had even forgotten that he was in the room. As soon as Buckwell left the light button to reveal in the plaids of his associates Dolores swiftly protected the fatal switch with her own hand and electrified every man in the room by crying out:

"Hold Senor Buckwell! He is a Chinaman!"

Buckwell whirled with both hands outstretched and pushing aside the men who surrounded him made for Dolores.

"Don't let him touch me!" she warned in terror, her hand covering the switch protectively.

Buckwell was seized by strong hand on all sides. His struggles were fruitless yet he retained a fine air of injured dignity. The girl is demoted. Let me have her taken to her room!" he said.

But for once no one believed Chris Buckwell. He found that his political contemporaries were holding him prisoner in his own home.

"That is not true. I am perfectly sane!" defied Dolores her eyes shining and her cheeks red with excitement. "He made me lie to you. He said that if I told the truth again he would press this light switch—she pointed to it as if it were a poisonous scorpion—which would be the signal for Terry O'Shaughnessy's death. Her eyes sought Brandon and she continued: "Terry is bound and gagged down stairs in a torture chamber!"

Every white and yellow man in the room knew that Dolores had told the truth. Buckwell glared at her with murder in his eyes, but was prevented from reaching her or the switch by the restraining hands of the men who had him safely pinioned in a big chair.

"Every Chinaman smiled broadly in unrestrained satisfaction, disclosing shiny white teeth. Lu Fong's very expression asked Dolores' pardon for having doubted her. But all of those present Brandon was he most violently affected.

"You—dam scoundrel where is that boy of mine?" he demanded.

Buckwell calmly returned Brandon's glare. "Find him!" he hissed. It was a challenge.

A dead silence followed the announcement.

"He is in the secret room!" Dolores hastened to explain. "I was blindfolded when they took me there but I could see beneath the handage—there is a secret door in here."

Her voice trailed back to the men in the living room, for she had thrown open the hall doors and was on her way to that room at the end of the hall where San Toy had delivered her to Jimmy and the Texas Kid.

The Tong leaders followed close behind. They wanted all the evidence of Buckwell's perfidy that could be secured and surmised that a secret room would be an excellent place to gather evidence against him.

For the first time during his interview Buckwell lost his self-possession. He cursed Dolores with a vehemence that was worse than anything the white bosses had ever heard and even they were not unskilled in an irrelevant use of English. Overpowered by the combined strength of his captors Buckwell was unable to resist. With a poor grace he suffered himself to be conducted to one of the two secret entrances that lead to his shrine room.

It was well for the future of Jimmy and the Texas Kid that Buckwell was not able to lay his hands on them for their negligence in permitting Dolores to gain a knowledge of her surroundings.

Here it is! she cried happily when her hands found the same spring in the woodwork that Jimmy had pressed to open the hidden entrance.

A dark foreboding interior opened up before the astonished men gathered behind Dolores. But without hesitancy she led them down the mysterious stairway and called out a warning when they reached the great iron door that blocked their progress. The fifty foot passage was dotted with men who still held Buckwell prisoner.

Dolores' small white hands fluttered searchingly over the surface and lingered around the heavy hinges.

"I can't open it!" she cried in alarm. "I can't find the spring."

Many other hands, both yellow and white came to her assistance and exploringly covered every inch of the door's surface searching for the secret spring that would give them entrance. They could not locate it.

"Then men who brought me down touched something on this side—about here," exclaimed Dolores as she reached up and pressed against the big metal door.

Immediately more matches flared in the darkness but eager fingers searched in vain.

"How do you open this fool door?" demanded Brandon of Buckwell.

EXTRACTS FROM DIRECTORS' REPORT

Substantial advances have been made in all departments during the year.

The total net income for the year exceeded one hundred million dollars.

The strength and resources of the Company have been further enhanced.

The high earning power of the Company's investments has been again demonstrated. The net rate of interest earned on the mean invested assets, after fully providing for investment expenses, was 6.47 per cent. This gratifying result has been made possible by dividend increases, bonuses and stock privileges accruing on many of the Company's holdings.

The wisdom of the investment policy which has been consistently followed in past years, in favouring long term bonds and the stocks of outstanding and very carefully selected corporations, has been once more emphasized. The appraisal of our securities shows that the excess of market values over cost increased during the year by $19,235,889.99. In addition, a net profit of $5,028,033.20 accrued from the redemption or sale of securities which had risen to high premiums.

The quality of the investments listed in the assets is testified by the fact that on both bonds and preferred stocks not one dollar, due either as interest or dividend, is in arrear for even one day, while the dividends accruing to common stocks are greatly in excess of the dividends payable on the same stocks at the time of purchase.

The surplus earned during the year amounted to $38,511,029.67 from which the following appropriations have been made:

$5,000,000 has been deducted from the market value of our securities as a further provision against possible future fluctuations, increasing the amount so set aside to $10,000,000.

$1,500,000 has been added to the account to provide for unforeseen contingencies, which now stands at $12,500,000.

$1,000,000 has been written off the Company's Head Office building and other properties.

$500,000 has been set aside to provide for the greater longevity of annuitants, bringing the total provision under this heading to $2,000,000.

$50,000 has been set aside to provide for claims in respect of total disability as yet unreported.

$11,090,056.61 has been paid or allotted as profits to policyholders during the year. In addition, $6,295,573.00 has been contingently allotted to deferred dividend policies issued prior to 1911, and to five year distribution policies, to provide for profits accrued but not yet payable.

After making these deductions and allocations, $11,269,330.89 has been added to the undivided surplus, bringing the total over all liabilities, contingency account and capital stock to $45,280,896.14.

Your Directors are gratified to announce, for the eighth successive year, a substantial increase in the scale of profits to be distributed to participating policyholders during the ensuing year.

for building or repairing at the Atlas yard. See Joe Welch or phone 57

In view of the splendid increased traffic experienced last season "The Confederation" will run for a longer period this summer. It is scheduled to leave Toronto on May 19th running west, and leave Vancouver on May 21st running east. This is about a month earlier than previously and it will continue until September 30th.

This will give Wainwright its six trains a day again.

Tuesday afternoon saw a merry little party at the home of Miss Marguerite Brunker who was celebrating her fifth birthday.

The delegates to the convention of Alberta Fair Association gave a very interesting report to a nice gathering in the Council chamber on Saturday afternoon last. It was decided at the close to continue the annual fair along the same lines as previously; at least for this year.

The election for Councillors for Gilt

Edge M.D. on Saturday afternoon last saw Mr Traynor successful in division

5 and Mr Otterburne still holds his seat in division 1.

Mrs. G. G. Phipps is arranging to hold her annual piano recital by her pupils on Thursday evening this week when parents and friends will be shown the progress made by the artists under her tuition.

A congregational meeting of the Wainwright United church is to be held at the close of the evening service on Sunday next to deal with important business. It is hoped that a large number will be present.

After spending some time in Edmonton and Calgary on business Mr and Mrs W. Goulet have now returned home.

Friday evening next being the usual business meeting night for the choir of the United church it is hoped that all members will turn out. Any person having a desire to join this musical aggregation will be welcomed. Please phone either the conductor or Mrs W

S. Clark the secretary.

Mrs P. Murray of Edmonton, who has been visiting with her mother Mrs R. Aykroyd, returned to her home last week.

***Now is the time to brighten up your home before the Spring work starts. We have just in a big fresh stock of kalsomines, varnishes, floor and wall paints, brushes, etc., and you find everything you need at the Atlas yard. Phone 57 or drop in and get a color card.

DONATES $25,000 TO

LAW UNIVERSITY

Halifax—Ron R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader has opened the fund to endow the lectureship of the Weldon chair at Dalhousie law school, with a donation of $25,000 it was announced by R. B. Murray K.C. president of the Nova Scotia Bar Association who had just returned from a trip to Upper Canada.

SOLDIERS' DEPARTMENT

WILL MERGE WITH

DEPT OF HEALTH

Ottawa—Presentation to parliament of the report of A. T. Hunter K.C. into the S.C.R. department is followed by notice of a bill to amalgamate the soldiers' department with the department of health to be called the department of national health and veterans welfare.

Things appear to be shaping up for a lively discussion on this proposal particularly in view of the Hunter report and the previous report of the audit board under which the staffs have been very materially reduced and other changes made. The Hunter report was tabled at the instance of Hon R. J. Manion who is a former minister of the department and is expected to lead off in criticism of the report and also of the projected changes in the department structure.
